

BEFORE THE TAX COMMISSION OF THE STATE OF IDAHO

In the Matter of the Protest of)
)	DOCKET NO. 23101
[Redacted],)
)
Petitioner.)	DECISION
_____)

On June 7, 2010, the Revenue Operations Division of the Idaho State Tax Commission denied a request by [Redacted] (taxpayer) for a refund of Idaho individual income tax in the amount of $422 for the period ending December 31, 2006. The taxpayer filed a timely protest and petition for redetermination of the refund denial.

The Tax Commission has reviewed the file, is advised of its contents, and hereby issues its decision.

On April 17, 2010, the taxpayer submitted his 2006 Idaho individual income tax return to the Tax Commission for processing. Because the time for claiming the refund shown in the return had expired, a letter was mailed to the taxpayer advising him of the Tax Commission’s intent to deny the refund. The taxpayer objected, and a Notice of Deficiency Determination was issued wherein the taxpayer was advised the refund was denied and he had a right to appeal the determination.

Idaho Code § 63-3032 defines the due date of Idaho income tax returns:

Time for filing income tax returns. (1) Except as provided in section 63-3033, Idaho Code:

- (a) Returns made on the basis of the calendar year shall be filed in the office of the Idaho state tax commission on or before the 15th day of April following the close of the calendar year and returns made on the basis of a fiscal year shall be filed in the office of the Idaho state tax commission on or before the 15th day of the fourth month following the close of the fiscal year. (Emphasis added.)

Idaho Code § 63-3072(c) defines the time allowed to claim refunds:

Credits and refunds. . . .

(b) Except as provided in subsection (e) of section 63-3035, Idaho Code, a claim for credit or refund of tax, penalties, or interest paid shall be made within the later of three (3) years of the due date of the return, without regard to extensions, or three (3) years from the date the return was filed. However, with regard to remittances received with an extension of time to file, or a tentative return, a claim for credit or refund of such remittances shall be made within three (3) years from the due date of the return without regard to extensions. (Emphasis added.)

Idaho Code § 63-3035(e) provides:

(e) Amounts deducted from wages of an employee during any calendar year in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be considered to be in part payment of the tax imposed on such employee for his tax year which begins within such calendar year and the return made by the employer under this subsection (e) shall be accepted by the state tax commission as evidence in favor of the employee of the amount so deducted from his wages. Where the total amount so deducted exceeds the amount of tax on the employee, based on his Idaho taxable income, or where his income is not taxable under this chapter, the state tax commission shall, after examining the annual return filed by the employee in accordance with this chapter, but not later than sixty (60) days after the filing of each return, refund the amount of the excess deducted. No credit or refund shall be made to an employee who fails to file his return, as required under this chapter, within three (3) years from the due date of the return, without regard to extensions, in respect of which the tax withheld might have been credited. In the event that the excess tax deducted is less than one dollar ($1.00), no refund shall be made unless specifically requested by the taxpayer at the time such return is filed. (Emphasis added.)

As a resident of Idaho with taxable income, the taxpayer was required to file an Idaho individual income tax return for taxable year 2006. The return was made on the basis of the calendar year. Therefore, according to the code sections above, the taxpayer's 2006 income tax return was required to be filed on or before April 15, 2007, and any claim for refund was required to be made by April 15, 2010. The Tax Commission received the taxpayer's 2006 return for processing on April 17, 2010.

The taxpayer's claim for refund was determined to be out of statute and was denied. The taxpayer protested the refund denial. His protest was predicated on the notion that because April 15, 2007, fell on a Sunday and Monday, April 16, was Emancipation Day, a legal holiday in the District of Columbia, his income tax return was not due until April 17.

Idaho Code section 63-217(4) states that if the date for filing any report, claim, tax return, statement, or other document or making any payment falls upon a Saturday, Sunday, or legal holiday, such acts shall be considered timely if performed on the next business day. Therefore, returns received for processing with a postmark date of April 17, 2007, were considered by the Tax Commission to be timely filed; the due date, however, remained unchanged. Because the due date, the fifteenth day of the fourth month remains statutory, so does the three-year statute of limitations for claiming a refund.

The due date for income tax returns for taxable year 2006 was April 15, 2007. The period of limitation, with respect to claiming a refund or credit of taxes shown in the Idaho income tax return for 2006, expired on April 15, 2010. The Tax Commission did not receive the taxpayer's return until April 17, 2010.

WHEREFORE, the Notice of Deficiency Determination directed to [Redacted] dated July 10, 2010, that denies the taxpayer a refund is APPROVED, AFFIRMED, and MADE FINAL.

An explanation of the taxpayer's right to appeal this decision is enclosed.
