IDAHO POWER (Petitioner) filed a timely protest of the value of its operating property asserting that Petitioner should receive the same reduction that a railroad would receive under the federal Railroad Revitalization and Reform Act of 1976 (also known as the “4-R Act”).

DISCUSSION OF THE CASE AND FINDINGS

Petitioner’s property is operating property as defined in Idaho Code § 63-201(16). Operating property is assessed annually by the Tax Commission pursuant to Chapter 4, Title 63, Idaho Code. The burden of proof is on the taxpayer challenging staff’s appraisal to show that they are entitled to relief. See IDAPA 35.01.03.407.09.e; PacifiCorp v. Idaho State Tax Comm’n, 153 Idaho 759, 767, 291 P.3d 442, 450 (2012); Idaho Code § 63-409(2).

Petitioner asked for their assessed value to be reduced by the same amount that it would be reduced under the federal 4-R Act if Petitioner were a railroad. The 4-R Act requires states to use ratio studies to test whether commercial and industrial property has been assessed at a level that is more than five percent below the ratio of market value at which the railroads were assessed and to grant railroads relief if commercial and industrial property is found to be below 95%. In May 2023, the Idaho Supreme Court held that Idaho’s constitutional uniformity requirement allows owners of all operating property to ask for the same relief that railroads receive under the 4-R Act. Idaho Power Company v. Idaho State Tax Commission, 530 P.3d 672 (2023).

Tax Commission staff prepared a report applying the same methodology to all operating property in Idaho as is applied to the railroads. This report uses ratio studies based on the commercial and industrial property values in the counties where the railroad (or in this case, Petitioner's property) is present to determine whether a reduction should be granted under the 4-R Act. The Board took up this issue generally on August 14, 2023, and decided to grant the reductions shown in Tax Commission staff's report for all operating properties in Idaho. Pursuant to that decision, Petitioner is receiving a 14.56 percent reduction to the appraised value.

CONCLUSION AND DECISION

We, the Idaho State Tax Commission, sitting as the State Board of Equalization, reduce the recommended value of $2,313,365,106, as contained in the Tax Commission property tax staff's appraisal report, by 14.56 percent based on the 4-R Act claim. The board hereby assesses $1,976,539,147 to be the taxable value of Petitioner's operating property.
