

extension. Petitioner did not provide the returns in a timely fashion, so the Bureau transferred the case to the Tax Commission's Appeals Unit (Appeals).

Appeals sent Petitioner a letter explaining the appeals process and his right to a hearing. Petitioner did not respond, so the Tax Commission must decide this matter based on the information currently available.

LAW AND ANALYSIS

Idaho Code section 63-3030(a)(1) requires each individual who is a resident of Idaho to file an Idaho income tax return if required to file a federal return. Internal Revenue Code section 6012 states that the requirement to file a federal return is based on gross income.

The information gathered by the Bureau and used to calculate Petitioner's Idaho taxable income clearly shows that Petitioner received gross income above the threshold amounts for filing returns. Petitioner did not express disagreement with the Bureau's conclusion that he was required to file Idaho returns for the years in question, but rather argued that he had additional deductions that were not allowed on the Notice.

In Idaho, it is well established that a Tax Commission Notice is presumed to be correct, and the taxpayer bears the burden of showing the deficiency is erroneous. See Parsons v. Idaho State Tax Commission, 110 Idaho 572, 574-575 n.2 (Ct. App. 1986) (citing Albertson's Inc. v. State, Dept. of Revenue, 106 Idaho 810, 814 (1984)). The Tax Commission requires Petitioner to provide adequate evidence to establish that the amount asserted in the Notice is incorrect. Petitioner has failed to do so. He has not filed actual returns or provided any substantive argument or documentation to show the individual income tax returns prepared by the Bureau for tax years 2015, 2016, and 2018 are incorrect. Therefore, the Tax Commission finds the returns prepared by the Bureau are a reasonable representation of Petitioner's Idaho taxable income and related tax due.

CONCLUSION

Based on the available information, Petitioner received income exceeding the gross income threshold for filing Idaho income tax returns for tax years 2015, 2016 and 2018. After multiple requests and extensions of time, Petitioner has yet to file these returns. Petitioner has not provided any evidence or compelling argument that the returns prepared by the Bureau are incorrect. The Tax Commission finds the returns prepared by the Bureau to be a reasonable representation of Petitioner's Idaho taxable income and related tax due for the years in question.

The Bureau added interest and penalty to Petitioner's tax deficiency. The Tax Commission reviewed those additions and finds them to be appropriate and in accordance with Idaho Code sections 63-3045 and 63-3046, respectively.

THEREFORE, the Notice of Deficiency Determination dated May 26, 2023, is hereby APPROVED by this decision and MADE FINAL.

YEAR	TAX	PENALTY	INTEREST	TOTAL
