Petitioners.)	DECISION
)

On July 13, 2022, the Property Tax Division (Property Tax) of the Idaho State Tax Commission (Tax Commission) issued an Intent to Deny Property Tax Reduction Benefit letter (Intent letter) to (Petitioners). Petitioners objected to the Intent letter and Property Tax referred the matter to the Tax Commission’s Appeals Unit (Appeals) for administrative review. Appeals sent Petitioners a letter informing them of the options available for redetermining a protested Intent letter. Petitioners participated in an informal hearing but did not provide any additional information. The Tax Commission reviewed the case, and this is our final decision. We uphold the Intent letter for the following reasons.

Petitioners filed an application for a property tax reduction benefit with Idaho county on March 29, 2022. Petitioners’ application was forwarded to the Tax Commission for review and processing. The staff, following Idaho Code section 63-707(6), reviewed Petitioners’ application and sent them a letter advising them of the intent to deny their application because of recent legislative changes. Petitioners protested the Intent letter, stating in part...

...If we meet the income level to qualify for the circuit breaker property tax reduction, which we do big time, how are we supposed to come up with the funds to pay the new inflated assessment value, when we don’t have the income to pay the old assessment value?...

LAW AND ANALYSIS

During the 2022 Idaho legislative session, House Bill 481 amended Idaho Code section 63-705(b) to read as follows:

On and after January 1, 2022, if the current year's assessed value of the home owned by the individual, according to the current year's assessment notice, exceeds the greater of three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) or one hundred fifty percent (150%) of the median assessed valuation for all homes in the county receiving the homestead exemption pursuant to section 63-602G, Idaho Code, then the individual will instead be referred to the property tax deferral program set forth in sections 63-712 through 63-721, Idaho Code. Using the current year's assessed values, each county shall report the median assessed value of all properties receiving the homestead exemption in such county as of that date to the state tax commission no later than the first Monday in June. Provided, however, the provisions of this paragraph do not apply to a veteran with either a service-connected disability of one hundred percent (100%) or a disability rating based on individual unemployability rating that is compensated at the one hundred percent (100%) disability rate, as certified by the United States department of veteran's affairs.

During review of Petitioners' application and information received from the Idaho county assessor's office Property Tax learned the 2022 assessed value of Petitioners' home was $366,849 and the median value of homes in Idaho county is $230,610. With an assessed value of $366,849, Petitioners' home exceeds the greater of $300,000 or 150% of the median value of properties in Idaho county.

Idaho Code section 63-705(b) describes the requirements, as it relates to current assessment values, for an applicant to qualify for the property tax reduction benefit. The requirements are very specific. The law must be followed as written. If the law is socially or economically unsound, the power to correct it is legislative, not within the powers of the Tax Commission. John Hancock Mutual Life Insurance Co. v. Neill, 79 Idaho 385, 319 P.2d 195 (1957).

CONCLUSION

The Tax Commission must follow the law as written. The 2022 assessed value of Petitioners' home exceeds the greater of $300,000 or 150% of the median assessed valuation for all homes in Idaho county receiving a homestead exemption. Their application for a 2022 property tax reduction benefit must be denied.

THEREFORE, the Intent to Deny Property Tax Reduction Benefit letter dated July 13, 2022, is APPROVED and MADE FINAL.

An explanation of Petitioners' right to appeal this decision is enclosed.
