

Boundary Disputes and Discrepancies – The Interplay of the Legal, Title, Real Estate, and Surveying Professions

The various roles of the land surveyor, the real estate agent, the title company, and the attorney interplay as a cohesive structure to promote certainty in land titles and certainty in location. Each of these professions plays a distinct role with specific and separate areas of concern. The interests of the land owner are assured when these professions work together. When discrepancies arise, the professionals must understand their individual roles in order to provide a cohesive and permanent solution. This course is specifically designed to promote a cooperative environment through discussion, debate and learning.

Text: Boundary Disputes and Discrepancies – The Interplay of the Legal, Title, Real Estate, and Surveying Professions

Instructor: John B. Stahl, PLS, CFedS

Date: Thursday, July 31

Location: Executive Dining Room (EDR) in Central Plaza –
Washington Group Complex

Hours: 7