

Meth Awareness

This class will cover identifying the chemicals and hazards associated with clandestine drug labs, an overview of how methamphetamine is commonly used, effects of methamphetamine on the users, effects of labs and meth on our communities, and the effects on our children.

We will also discuss precautions and steps to take if a lab is encountered, and we'll discuss some safety tips for dealing with people under the influence of methamphetamine. Actual photos of various drug labs will be shown. Most of those photos originated as a result of labs seized in Idaho.
