OUTPUT SUMMARY (or NA):

The report lists the parcel key, code area, name, address, date of listing and the property address, the line, quantity, item, make/model, serial number, owner ID, fuel type, year manufactured, year purchased, cost, schedule number, function code, factor percentage, category number, dollar adjustment, extended market value, total cost, total adjustment and depreciated value per category, as well as total cost, total adjustments, and total depreciated value per parcel.

If the record has a QIE (Qualifying Investment Exemption) record with either the first or second exemption year equal to the current year, the purchase price is zeroed out and an additional line is printed showing: the recapture date, whether the item was used or new, which exempt year is currently being processed, the amount exempt for the current exempt year, and the date placed in service.

If the record has a QIE record that has passed its two exempt years, but has not yet reached the recapture date, the purchase price is processed normally and a message is printed notifying the user of the recapture date.

If the PP record has an intangible or post consumer waste exemption, that exemption will also be displayed.
